FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

Covid-19 “Back to Work Training Program” developed by Global Training Centers, LLC. in collaboration with Dupont Sustainable Solutions, a division of Dupont Laboratories launches

Teaches science-based safety and hygiene best practices, essential as economy reopens and nationwide spikes

BALTIMORE, July 28, 2020– In response to the Covid-19 pandemic, President of Global Training Centers, LLC. (GTC) and Master Trainer, Michael Haynie has innovated a bilingual science based virtual training platform that will guide organizations, corporations and municipalities on back to work procedures based on CDC and FDA guidelines. The program is facilitated by a group of experts in the scientific and medical fields and has the ability to be adapted to the daily evolving science and knowledge of Covid-19. The training modules are being applied to positive outcomes for the customer and employee experience as the economy reopens and as infections spike across the country.

Emphasizing standards of excellence and quality, the GTC program offers an opportunity for employers to provide direct support and leadership to the returning Covid-19 impacted workforce throughout the country. The training program geared towards line level employees across all levels educates, recommends, and maintains customer-focused standards that enhance the customer experience while keeping the employees healthy and safe at work. Because it is structured as a virtual program and bilingual, it allows for training flexibility.

GTC, parent company to numerous nationwide training companies, is best positioned to provide Covid-19 back to work training. The lifesaving program developed by Dupont Sustainable Solutions, a division of Dupont Laboratories and GTC is applicable to all business verticals such as manufacturing, education, healthcare, law enforcement, hospitality, retail, restaurants, tourism and will consist of several training programs including: How to gradually return Back to Work, Preventing spread of COVID-19, Safe Work Practices & Emergency Communication Plans. The employee must attend the approximately sixty-minute online training and will receive a certificate of attendance. The benefit to an employee who completes the training is enhanced customer and employee safety, improved hygiene, and safe service delivery in addition to being armed with first hand factual knowledge to pass on to friends and family in their communities.

Appointed to serve on Governor Larry Hogan’s Reopen Maryland Task force with other business leaders and also appointed by Mayor Jack Young to serve on Baltimore City Restaurant recovery task force, Baltimore native and respected hospitality industry expert Michael Haynie, President of GTC is a well-known and proven leader in the Hospitality and Tourism Industry serving on many boards including The Maryland Tourism Development Board and Visit Baltimore Board. He has devoted his entire career extended over 3 decades to assist with training, strategic planning and economic development growth. Mr. Haynie's unwavering passion and commitment to training in the Industry has garnered him a stellar reputation amongst his peers. In addition, GTC offers diversity and inclusion corporate training programs and customer service training in a multitude of industries.

"These training programs can help save businesses impacted during the pandemic as well as secure the financial future of economies. Employers have a responsibility to responsibly educate their employees and not just take their temperature and hand them a mask and gloves. Our goal is to establish a platform of education and awareness for employers that require public interaction and service" says Michael Haynie. "My personal commitment is to restructure the mindset of businesses to operate efficiently and effectively moving forward in an ever- changing world."
